ALEXANDRIA'S OPPORTUNITY AND DUTY CONCERNING CAMP HUMPHREYS AND ITS MEN

Colonel Parks, the Commandant, in Address Before the Chamber of Commerce, Tells of the Responsibilities that Have Come to This City With the Establishment of the Big Camp and its Thousands of Soldiers.

A vivid realization of Alexandria's opportunity and duty in connection with Camp Humphreys was given the guests at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday by the Commandant, Colonel Parks. He came to Alexandria on business and was invited to attend the luncheon. He is an able and convincing speaker and his remarks were a treat to the audience.

He remarked upon the fine spirit shown at the meeting and the wonderful success of the campaign, and compared it with the efforts of three progressive cities in the West with which he was familiar. He told of the money raised by Tacoma, Wash., San Diego, Cal., and San Francisco for the big cantonments established nearby.

"A great cantonment has been established near your city," he said, "without any cost to you. It places upon you, however, certain responsibilities. You are the nearest city to the camp, and it is my hope that you will be able to have our men come here for their recreation and amusement instead of going to Washington, Baltimore or Norfolk. But you must provide means of amusement and recreation and transportation."

He talked at length on the transportation problem, saying that the Government had never providet rapid transit for military camps. He made an appeal to the new Chamber of Commerce to use its influence in having the electric railway extended to Camp Humphreys. In case of failure to do that he wanted steamboats placed in operation between Alexandria and Camp Humphreys. He said that if good, fast boats were provided, the men would come here, and a large part of them would remain here rather than go to Washington. He added that there would be no loss in capitalizing such a service for the boats could easily be disposed of when the camp was discontinued. He made a remark then which indicated to the audience that he expected the war to last two more years.

He then took up the question of providing homes for the families of officers and soldiers who would be stationed at the camp. Thousands of relatives of the officers and soldiers will want to live here while the men are stationed at Camp Humphries. He made the suggestion that the bungalow style of house be adopted to take care of the new population. He said these could be built rapidly and cheaply.

"I want you to appoint a committee," he continued, "to take up with me the question of the recreation and educational facilities for my men. I want to work with your new Chamber of Commerce. Its organization is timely. I believe you can do much for us, and we in turn can do much for you."

He spoke of the bad condition of the roads between here and Camp Humphreys, but said that when the weather became favorable the Government would put them in better condition, but not rebuild them. He invited the people of Alexandria to visit the camp during the period of construction and after the camp was completed.

Finally, he asked that the camp be referred to as Camp Humphreys and not as Belvoir.

"It is not Belvoir," he said, "but Camp Humphreys. Belvoir, Va., is twenty miles from here, and because of the confusion, much baggage that should have gone to Camp Humphreys has gone to Belvoir, and the station there is overloaded with baggage. In writing there, simply address your letters, 'Camp Humphreys.'"

ATTACK HOSPITAL SHIP.

Germans Fire Two Torpedoes at Vessel with 450 Wounded.

London, March 15.—The hospital ship Guilford Castle, was attacked unsuccessfully by a submarine in the Bristol Channel on March 10, it was announced officially yesterday.

A wireless call for help was sent out and friendly destroyers appeared. Full steam ahead was ordered, and the steamer made Avonmouth, where the wounded and the hospital staff were landed.

The Guilford Castle had 450 wounded on board from German East Africa. She was southwest of Lundy Island, in the entrance to Bristol Channel, on Sunday afternoon when the attack was made. It was full daylight and the ship's markings could not have been mistaken, as they recently had been repainted.

CONVICT SHIP SUNK.

The old English convict ship, "Success," which has been a moving museum for many years, is reported sunk in the Ohio river. The ship was being exhibited at Carrolton, Ky., in the Ohio river, and when the ice floes that clogged the river began to melt a large hole was penetrated in her side, causing her to sink.

The "Success" was on exhibition in Alexandria several years ago. She was docked at the foot of Cameron street, and many people visited her and viewed the interesting old relics of the days of persecution. The boat was over one hundred years old.

After leaving Alexandria the "Success" went through the Panama canal and up the Pacific as far as San Francisco. Later she returned through the canal, stopped at New Orleans, and went up the Mississippi and through the Ohio, stopping at many places.

Uncle Sam has nine soldiers in Alexandria who are acting as guards over the large army trucks which are being used in conveying lumber and other materials to Camp Humphreys. Many of the trucks are kept here nights and at times have been detained here for some hours in the day time owing to the bad condition of the roads between the city and the camp. The rations of the men are being furnished by the government but are served to them at the Westminster building by the ladies of the Red Cross Refreshment Corps, under the direction of Miss Cora L. Cochran. In order to give the men something more of a variety of food than what is supplied by the government commissary department, the ladies will be delighted to receive anything from the housekeepers in town in the way of hot rolls, cake, fruit—in fact, anything which will be "something good to eat" for the soldier boys. The members of the Refreshment Corps who are assisting in caring for the men are entitled to much praise for the time they are devoting to the work from their home duties.

An aeroplane was reported as going over the city last night in a southerly direction, following the course of the Potomac river. Where it came from or its destination is not known. Another rumor was to the effect that a hydro-aeroplane was seen floating in the river opposite the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation shipyards, but it could not be verified. Rumors of various kinds are almost as numerous in the city as people, these days.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Lyceum society was held last night at Lyceum hall at which time officers were elected as follows: Rev. Louis Smet, honorary president and chaplain; M. J. McFarland, president; Thomas E. Dyson, vice president; W. A. Devaughan, secretary; R. L. Carne, treasurer. The following named gentlemen were chosen as the board of governors: William Desmond, Joseph Lash, C. T. Hellmuth and Lyons Dolan.

The schooner Orbit, loaded with building materialby Smoot & Co., for Indian Head, was blown from her moorings at the foot of Cameron street this morning. The schooner drifted upon piles, a short distance south, which at one time formed part of the old Maryland ferry steamer's wharf, knocking a hole in her bottom. Among the Orbit's cargo was a quantity of lime, which was set on fire by the water which rushed into the hold. A silent alarm was sent to the Relief Hook and Ladder Company's house, and the auto fire engine responded and aided in subduing the flames.

There were no cases before the Police Court this morning.

Morris L. Horner of this city and Charles F. Holden, of Washington, have formed a partnership and will engage in the insurance business in Alexandria under the name of the Horner-Holden Company. They will carry on business at 612 King street. See their announcement on page two.

Clothing is greatly needed for the people in Belgium, for whom another earnest appeal has been made. The Alexandria Chapter of the Red Cross urges that all in this city make such contributions of garments as they can. An appeal will be made to them through the columns of the Gazette in tomorrow's issue.

The funeral of the late Thomas J. Hoyles Row, who died on Tuesday, after a long and painful illness, took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence on the old Leesburg turnpike, a mile and a half from Bailey's Cross Roads. The interment was in Oakwood cemetery near Falls Church. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. Mr. Row was a native of New Foundland, having been born there sixty-four years ago. He had resided for a time in England but afterwards returned to New Foundland, where he married, and later came to Virginia and had been for many years a respected and esteemed resident of Fairfax county, not far from this city. He leaves a widow and a large family, all of whom are respected members of the community. Among his descendants are eighteen grand children.

TRAINS LOST IN FLOOD.

Engine and Three Men Swallowed Up by Quicksand.

Corning, N. Y., March 15.—Floods caused by Wednesday night's rainfall of nearly two inches did many thousands of dollars damage, yesterday throughout the Canisteo, Conhockton, Chemung and Tioga river valleys.

A Pennsylvania train yesterday plunged into an immense hole near Monihan's crossing, twelve miles south of Mount Morris, and three members of the crew were killed. The engine struck a bed of quicksand, and last night only the smokestack was visible. The bodies of the men also have disappeared.

A passenger train on the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad slid into the Cewanesque river near Knoxville late yesterday when the track suddenly gave way. Several persons were injured.

An Erie railroad freight engine and thirteen cars met with a similar accident at West Cameron early in the day.

Charleston, W. Va., March 15.—With the falling of another heavy rain late yesterday, the city of Charleston last night was confronted by the worst flood conditions since 1901. Business was at a standstill with water filling the cellars of the principal business places.

The flood had put power plants out of commission and the city was in darkness. The flood affects about three square miles.

In low-lying sections of Charleston last night the water had reached the second stories of the houses. News papers were unable to publish in Charleston yesterday and no papers will be published today.

One death has been reported. Dewey Grubb, 20, was drowned in Deckers Creek, near Morgantown.

Detroit, Mich., March 15.—Damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 has been wrought in lower Michigan by the tremendous rainfall of the past 24 hours. In some districts railroad traffic has been abandoned. Eaton Rapids reporteds heavy property damage this forenoon after the Grand river overflowed its banks. In the outlying sections of Detroit flood conditions prevail.

HE CANNOT PRACTICE LAW.

For Second Time Man Is Refused Admittance to Bar.

Danville, Va., March 15.—Holding that a barrister is an officer of the court and that only those whose characters are beyond reproach should be admitted to practice, Judge E. J. Harvey yesterday denied a certificate of good character to William E. Cunningham, a laundry worker. The hearing lasted virtually all day and a great many witnesses were heard. The petitioner taking the stand admitted that he had been "wild," but that since 1914 he had reformed and had been diligently studying law. The petition was opposed by a committee of the local Bar Association.

Cunningham, a few weeks ago, filed his petition and asked that the Governor be requested to appoint another judge to hear the petition, charging that Judge William Leigh, of the local court, had already gone on record against him and that he could not give him a fair trial.

SPLENDID EFFORTS MADE BY COMMITTEES COMMENDED THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE CITY

Business and Professional Men Give Fine Support to New Chamber of Commerce Organization—Final Reports to be Made at Meeting to be Held Next Week—Expect to Secure at Least Eight Hundred Members.

STATEMENT FROM PRESIDENT ROBERT L. PAYNE.

To the Members of the Greater Alexandria Chamber of Commerce:

As president of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce I wish to take this means of thanking you for your splendid support of the campaign for reorganizing the Chamber and placing it on a more modern basis. The results of the campaign are such that any city of our size in the United States could well be proud of them. The spirit shown throughout the campaign has been without parallel in our city, and I take it to mean that the people as a whole want harmony, co-operation, progress and prosperity in the future.

In putting the Chamber of Commerce on such a strong financial basis, we have simply laid the foundation. The big work is still before us, and I trust that every citizen will retain his interest in this work, will put his shoulder to the wheel and will be for Alexandria first in all things. Instead of losing any of the remarkable spirit that has been created by the campaign, let us capitalize that spirit, make it even greater, and maintain it for the glory of our city.

The great problems before us should simply strengthen our determination to make good in solving them. In the meetings to put the new plans of the Chamber of Commerce into operation, I hope that every member will make a serious effort to be present. "In numbers there is strength."

Trusting that our hopes may be realized in every particular, I am,

Yours very truly,

R. L. Payne, President.

With the membership mark at 672, the Chamber of Commerce committees are casting eyes toward the 800 mark. They have made some investigations and believe that it would break the record for a city of this size to have that many members, and they desire to put Alexandria in the record class. The committees have 101 "good prospects" in their possession, and they will keep working until these have been called upon. Committees will make their final reports at the big membership meeting to be held next week.

When these final reports are in the underwriting committee will get busy on making good its pledge to secure the number of members needed to reach the 800 mark. B. W. Morse suggested this committee.

The city is wild with enthusiasm over the great work done by the committees in going far over the mark, and over the fine work of the business and professional men in giving such splendid support to the movement. At the present time the Chamber of Commerce has as large an income as any commercial or civic organizations in Washington, and if the 800 mark is reached, the Washington organizations will have to take a back seat to the live-wire Alexandria Chamber.

The work of bringing about the reorganization has already started. The board of directors of the Chamber have been called to meet today at 4 o'clock to pass on the plans for immediate reorganization. This will necessitate an amendment to the charter, new by-laws, and an election of officers and directors.

One of the first steps will be to send out a blank to the members so that they can designate their bureaus. The firms that have taken plural memberships will also be requested to designate the individuals that are to represent them.

President Payne is anxious to have the new Chamber of Commerce a "going concern" as soon as possible. If possible, the entire reorganization will be effected by the end of next week, with the bureaus in operation and the new officers and directors and business manager in charge.

Tomorrow President Payne and other officers will have a conference with Colonel Parks, commandant at Camp Humphreys, to take up important questions concerning both the camp and the city. This conference will be of utmost importance as Alexandria has tremendous problems and opportunities in regard to taking care of the visiting soldiers from the camp and looking after the families of the officers and soldiers.

MUST DIVIDE WITH ALLIES.

Your loaf of bread must be shared with the Allies suggests a Washington correspondent. This is now a literal war fact. A lot of people do not understand it and the sooner they do understand it, the better.

Before the next harvest comes in there is going to be a shortage of wheat. This will not be a theoretical, mathematical, market price shortage; it will be a shortage which will affect the size, weight and quality of the loaf on every table in the land. The baker is going to have less flour, the retailer less bread and the housewife less wheat flour in her firkin.

All this is going to happen because it is the duty of the United States to share its loaf with the Allies.

If you have felt that Herbert Hoover was put into office to conserve food for the American populace and to keep down the price of victuals, you are entirely wrong.

Hoover was appointed and the food law was passed purely for the purpose of winning the war. Now a crisis has come where the only way to meet it is to do without so much food—bread food—to win the war.

Only a great emergency has made this course imperative. The Allies have to have wheat. They have to have it to make bread for the soldiers and to keep their war-working civilian populations alive.

England is today actually suffering for lack of food. Her shortage is worse than that of France. This is due to the fact that England has been dividing 50-50 with Italy. The only way to keep Italy in the war was for England to do this.

This heroic effort on the part of the British did, in fact, check the German drive at the moment when it was menacing historic Venice. But the cost has been heavy.

By splitting your loaf of bread you will do more to help the Allies in this war than regiments and divisions can do on the western front.

AUSTRIAN CRUELTY.

The Austrian authorities are charged with hanging women and children, as well as men, in an official communication from the Servian Government at Corfu, made public by the Servian Press Bureau in Washington.

The revelations of Dr. Van Den Hoffen, the neutral eye-witness of these horrors, who has just published a book on the subject, prove that the Austrain acts of vandalism are not thoroughly known, and that the number of crimes cannot be even approximately estimated.

On this subject a Servian barrister, a native of Bosnia, who was interned by the Austrians and afterward succeeded in enlisting in their army, and deserted, writes that the Austrians have not hesitated to commit the most iniquitous acts in order to complete their work of extermination in Servia and the Jugoslav countries.

He cites the following cases, which leave no doubt as to Austrian methods. In the Bosnian village of Militch 200 men were hanged. In the village of Debropolis a woman and her four children were hanged. In the village of Ternove the Austrians hanged three women in front of their houses and carried off the husbands as soldiers. At Sokosse they masacreed the entire family of Yove Borovina and other families, totaling in all 27 women and children. They terribly mutilated his wife and hanged her in this state in the yard of her home. At the village of Zhushka they cut the throats of all the members of the Stanishitch family.

TO TAKE OVER DUTCH FLEET.

1,000,000 Tons of Shipping Will be Acquired Next Week by U. S. and Britain.

As has been related in the Gazette, a million tons of Dutch ships, now held in ports the world over, through Holland's fear of Germany's threat to sink them if they venture out, will be brought into the service of the United States and Great Britain on March 18.

Unless the Netherlands Government braves the menace of Germany's pressure and voluntarily accepts an agreement under which the ships would be put in trade the United States and Great Britain will take them over, under international law, availing themselves of a sovereign right which Germany herself has hitherto exercised under the same authority.

Formal notice has been presented to The Hague by the American and British diplomatic representatives of the Allied Governments' intentions. As a result the Netherlands Minister, August Phillips, acting under instructions of his Government, made a final personal appeal yesterday to President Wilson at least to modify the decision.

The President saw no reason for altering the decision and unless the ships are turned over by next Monday, a Presidential proclamation will be issued, taking over the ships in American ports, of which there are about 80. Many more, however, are in British of other Allied ports on the seven seas.

From the American official point of view, the action is one into which the Allied Governments have been forced by the German duress of Holland, which may now see her ships in trade again and can point out to Germany that they were taken through no will of her own.

Coming at a time when the dire need of the Allied cause is for ships, this acquisition of a million tons is of tremendous importance.

GET SIXTEEN BARRELS.

Inspectors From Prohibition Commissioner's Office and Detectives Make Raid in Richmond.

Richmond, March 15.—Sixteen barrels of whiskey were seized at the Southern Express office yesterday, following information gained by inspectors from the office of the prohibition commissioner.

Patrick J. Lenahan, who conducts a soft drink stand on South Seventh street, near Byrd Street Station, was arrested by Capt. A. S. Wright and Detectives Bailey and Tinsley on the charge of unlawful transportation. He was released on $500 bail to appear before Judge Crutchfield in police court today.

The liquor was in two consignments of eight barrels each, addressed to fictitious places. The whiskey in quart bottles, each in a separate carton, was packed tightly in the barrels, which were marked "sugar."

The seizure was the result of an extended inquiry carried on by agents of the prohibition commissioner and the Federal Government.

HUN RAID REPULSED.

Pershing Announces Unit in Which Baltimoreans Are Stopped For on March .

American troop that repulsed the German raid of March 5 were from the Forty-second, or Rainbow Division, which is made up of National Guardsmen, General Pershing reported yesterday.

The commander of the American division was personally congratulated by General Gerard, commander of the Eighth French Army, for the manner in which the Americans conducted themselves.

General Pershing's message, as given out by the War Department, follows:

"Summary of activities on Forty-second (Rainbow) Division front, night of fourth and fifth of March:

"Enemy attempted trench raid early in the morning March 5. Raid was repulsed with losses to the enemy. Our losses reported light, no missing or prisoners. General Gerard, commanding Eighth French Army, congratulated division commander on way in which troops repulsed raid."

DEMOCRATS CONTROL HOUSE.

Four From New York Take Oath. Begin Duties at Once.

Democratic control of the House was assured yesterday when four newly elected Democratic members from New York were formally inducted into office. The men sworn in are John J. Delany, W. E. Cleary, Jerome Donovan and Anthony J. Griffin.

During the period of vacancies which were filled yesterday the Republicans had it in their power to oust Speaker Clark and assume control of the House. They never attempted to exercise that responsibility, however, because of their war policy.

SUPREMACY BY RUTHLESSNESS.

German Submarines Destroy Shipping to Prevent After War Competition.

Washington, March 15.—Neutral vessels are now being ruthlessly submarined to assure German commercial dominance. This is the belief of the War Trade Board, expressed in a formal statement last night.

Whereas, Germany declared her adoption of the policy of sinking ships in mid-ocean without regard to the safety of crews as a measure of military necessity, the War Trade Board last night shows that ruthlessness is now being exercised for two purely commercial and political reasons:

1. To coerce her neutral neighbors.
2. To reduce shipping which after the war might compete with Germany's depleted merchant fleet.

Germany, the board shows, abandoned all the restrictions in her proclamation of ruthless submarine warfare.

"It is hoped," says the board's statement, "that Switzerland and the other neutrals will contrast the respective attitudes of Germany and the United States toward the problem of feeding neutrals."

The success of the earnest efforts of the United States government to rush shipments of bread grain to Switzerland is threatened by the action of German submarines, which have made a start on a new policy of ruthlessness by sinking the neutral Spanish steamer Sardinero, secured with great difficulty to carry food to that country.

To add to the deliberateness of the offense, the Sardinero was destroyed after the submarine commander had made a thorough examination of the ship's papers and convinced himself of the nature and destination of the cargo, so that no plea of a "mistake" can be entered by Germany.

HID WEAPONS ABOARD SHIP.

U. S. Officials Translating Suspected Literature Found.

Norfolk, Va., March 15.—While forty-three members of the Bolsheviki crew of the Russian steamer Omsk are in jail, Department of Justice officials are having translated a quantity of supposed revolutionary literature printed in Russian which was found on the ship.

A search was made yesterday of the steamer by United States sailors and marines. Hidden in packages of sugar in the gallery were found firearms, and between blankets in the forecastle pistols, dirks and other weapons.

Suspicion of the Federal authorities was turned toward the cook because of the hidden weapons in the galley. On questioning him, it was learned that he was third in command, and had given his address as New York. One theory of the authorities is that he brought the literature, which is suspected to be I. W. W. doctrine translated into Russian, on board.

Charges of mutiny will be based on a complaint by Capt. Edmond Yednovksy that the crew demanded that Bolsheviki principles be put into effect on board ship. They demanded, he says the appointment of a committee of general control; no direct authority by the captain; a 25 per cent raise in pay, and recognition that the ship really belonged to them.

Resistance of arrest by officers of the port also is charged.

KERSHAW STICKS FAST.

Last Members of Crew are Brought Ashore in the Breeches Buoy.

An Atlantic Port, March 15.—Immediate efforts to release the steamer Kershaw, of the Merchants and Miners' line, which went aground early yesterday when the last members of the crew were brought ashore in the breeches buoy were made yesterday.

A heavy sea yesterday swept the craft nearer the beach, and, because of the high wind, wrecking tugs were forced to give up their attempt to pull the liner into deeper water. At last reports the Kershaw had 14 feet of water in her hold. An effort will be made to salvage her cargo, which includes 17,000 cases of whiskey, after which an attempt will be made to drag her off the sand.

DEATH OF NONAGENARIAN.

Isaac Stephenson, Once the Richest Senator, is Dead.

Marinette, Wis., March 15.—Former United States Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin died here early today after a long illness.

Senator Stephenson once had the distinction of being both the oldest and the richest man in the United States Senate. He outlived his alloted "three score years and ten" by almost twenty years, as he would have been ninety years old June 18, next.

In spite of his advanced age, Senator Stephenson, up to the time of his illness, was always an active and energetic worker. His fortune was estimated at over $20,000,000.

POSSE TAKES DAVE NEFF.

Captured Outlaw Asleep in Dugout, Surrounded by Stolen Articles.

Harrisonburg, Va., March 15.—Dave Neff, one of the famous Neff outlaws, who have been terrorizing Shenandoah County for some months, was captured in a dugout in the mountain near his home at Walkers Chapel, or "Helltown," Tuesday evening. This makes two of the gang once more behind the bars in the Woodstock jail, from which they made their escape last December, Paul being captured a few days ago, but Mike remains at large.

When found, Neff was asleep. Luck thus favoring the posse capturing him, he was taken without a chance to offer resistance. Upon searching the dugout, a full supply of bacon, lard, coffee, sugar and other necessities, including a stove and cooking utensils, were found, together with other articles which were identified as those taken from Hackett's store at Mt. Jackson ten days ago, when the store was robbed.

He is also believed to be the unknown person assaulting and seriously wounding Elmer Bowman last week, when he was returning from the home of a young woman alleged to be Dave Neff's sweetheart.
